

1-This level is an extension to what has been taught in previous levels. Now, the four linguistic skills are presented in different contexts: social, political, literary, scientific, economic, and historical.

2- Each unit at this level contains exercises related to reading comprehension, the use of lexicon and grammar, as well as listening and speaking exercises that focus on applying what is discussed in various texts.

3-This level aims at enriching students' vocabulary knowledge by presenting different types of texts that help them communicate with others in a variety of cultural and scientific situations through standard and colloquial Arabic.

-Students at the end of this level are expected to be able to understand the core content of concrete and theoretical topics as well as discussing different issues, and understanding what others are saying.
