

1-The sixth level is one of the advanced levels in the Language Center. At this level, the students' linguistic skills acquired in the previous levels are delivered.

2-Their lexical collection is supplemented with a very wide range of vocabulary through a variety of linguistic contexts, and a variety of authentic texts, which are selected from Arabic texts, magazines and newspapers issued originally in Arabic.

3-All of this is delivered in speaking and writing as students speak about important topics with a wide range of economic, social, and political dimensions.

-Students at this level are expected to understand traditional narrative and descriptive texts such as extended descriptions of people, places, and things, as well as to understand the main points and supporting details in any given text.
